

Can you help the Calvert County Humane Society Grow?

The Humane Society of Calvert County (HSCC) is a “no-kill” animal welfare organization, recognized by the Internal Revenue Service as a 501(c)(3) non-profit group. We have been working for the community for over 30 years and are a member of the United Way.

We own Fishing Creek Kennel in Sunderland, MD. Since buying the kennel in 1999, we have renovated our kennel runs and can provide space for 35 dogs. For those of you who have visited the kennel, you may have noticed we have one room in which to greet visitors. This room is also our only office space, dog medication room, storage, etc. It is difficult to accomplish eight things in one small room. We have received a $20,000 Matching Funds Grant to jump start a building fund. The only way we can earn this grant is to raise $20,000 matching funds from the community. We will expand by adding a two-story addition totaling over 722 square feet.

Our agency relies heavily on community financial support, fundraisers, contributions, and donations which are an integral part of our financial infrastructure. As the county’s pet overpopulation increases, so does our need for funding.

We strive to be a strong community resource and partner advocating the humane treatment of animals and responsible ownership of pets. We seek to shelter and protect animals by placing them into caring, responsible environments; increase awareness through humane education and community outreach; reduce animal overpopulation; eliminate animal cruelty and promote the adoption of standards for humane treatment.

We assist in situations, such as taking pets from homes where the owner has died; Provide reduced or free boarding for someone who is hospitalized; help place pets from families who are going through a divorce or have a child with an allergic reaction to the pet; or other situations.

Your contributions to HSCC will help us meet our goal of matching this $20,000 grant. This is an opportunity double the value of your contribution of your contribution to HSCC. Your generosity would be publicly acknowledged in our website, newsletter, and press release.
